

Delivering the vision, adding value and benefits

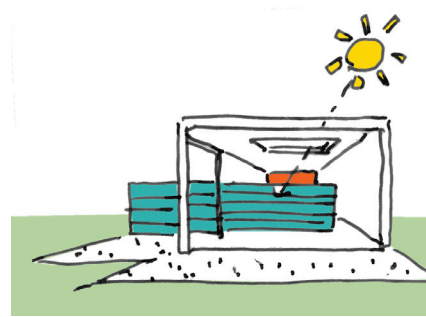

We offer a full range of highly skilled architectural design and site administration services to meet your needs and requirements. Services can easily be changed during our engagement.

If you're at the early stages, and an initial idea or brief requires more work, we'll suggest the services we think you'll need throughout your project. We'll also complete your brief, from which will flow the design options and a building solution that works for you.

If tendering, this will nearly always be a response to a well written brief. We can provide pricing for the services defined, and if we sense more or less services would be in your best interests, we'll add or omit them for discussion and fine tuning before we are appointed.

We offer all, individual or a selection of the following services:

- Brief research and writing
- Stakeholder engagement
- Cost budgeting
- De-risking project decisions
- Option and feasibility studies
- 3D CAD and physical modelling
- Planning Applications
- Building Control solutions
- Value and design management with quality assurance
- Quality assured sustainability design and management
- Construction specifications
- Contract administration
- Construction drawings and specifications
- Post completion moving in support and in-use change.

In working for you, and often leading your design team, GS-CA offers professional advice, design and information delivery services to add value and benefits from your investment in time, money and people ...
